Hello Fellow Rotarians

Carolina Alas-Hemphill

Thank you all again for joining me yesterday at the Assistance League.

I have done this activity many times, but I can confidently say, you were the most efficient team I have ever brought with me. Awesome job!

However, the best part for me is the look on the faces of Volunteering isn't all work!

Sometimes it's a pancake.

Building Little Free Libraries

We're hoping that we can build and fill a series of Little Free Libraries across Walnut Creek and surrounding cities that emphasize diversity and inclusion by filling these library boxes with culturally relevant books for young children.

The vision and design of these library boxes is that they would be on shorter posts so that children can reach and pick out their books themselves. The library box itself would be taller to fit picture books easily.

To figure out if this is a viable idea, we need a few people to be library stewards and volunteer their yard area to have one of these built and put up. Please let us know if you're interested in having one of these built on your property.

Also, let us know if you'd be interested in helping to:

1. Design and build the libraries
2. Paint and decorate the libraries once they're completed.
